Presentations

The 4th Asia-Pacific DHI Software Conference will be held in Shanghai November 15-17th, 2006. DHI Software Conferences are the perfect venue for learning about real-world applications of DHI Software and for exchange of experience with colleagues and DHI experts within marine, water resources and urban modelling. Building upon the three successful conferences in Bangkok 2002, Sydney 2003, and in Kuala Lumpur 2005 will put even more emphasis on practical applications of the DHI Software modelling tools.

The conference enables you to exchange experience within the fields of:

- Water resource management and planning
- Flooding management and control;
- Urban water management;
- Coastal and marine projects;
- Water modelling skill and experiences.

Meal services

Meals will be provided for free for all registered participants.

Social Activities

Conference will organize field study tours for delegates after the three-day event, and the proposed options of the field study tours are:

Option A: Three Gorge hydraulic engineering of Yangtze River (proposed 5-days trip, Shanghai return at about CNY 4,400);

Option B: Xiao Langdi hydraulic engineering of Yellow River (proposed 2days trip, Shanghai return at about CNY 2,800).

Note: Option B could be changed and/or cancelled, in terms of the trip registration circumstances.

Further information will be announced in following days.
